

Utah Chapter of the American Fisheries Society

Annual Meeting - March 12-14, 2019, Utah Valley Convention Center, Provo UT

Student Scholarships – Deadline is December 1, 2018

Utah AFS is awarding six student scholarships for this year's meeting. Registration fees for the 2019 meeting will be waived for those who are awarded the scholarships (this includes lodging, food, and registration dues). Graduate and undergraduate students are encouraged to apply for these scholarships. While preference may be given to those intending to present (oral or poster), giving a presentation is not a requirement. To apply for these scholarships, please answer the following questions and submit your responses to Paul Thompson, Utah Chapter AFS President utafsprez@gmail.com.

Name

Email

College or University

Do you plan on presenting at the 2019 AFS meeting? If yes, will your presentation be oral or a poster?

What is your educational background related to fisheries/aquatic ecology?

What are your career goals?

Explain the importance of fisheries managers/aquatics ecologists in today's society.